This spacious 5-bedroom villa with additional guest house has a hilltop position offering panoramic views of the surrounding tree clad hills as well as enjoying views of both the sunrise and sunset. All this is surrounded by 100,000 sqm land that has been cultivated with over 400 trees including olives, oranges, lemons, cherries, and figs. Although you feel you are in your own private world, the estate combines privacy and seclusion with accessibility to all amenities and the sea – it is just 20km from Corfu Town and the airport and a 5-minute drive from local beaches.

The villa offers wonderful spaces for external living – covered terraces, manicured lawns all surrounded by a wonderful array of fragrant flowers, trees, and shrubs and there is a lovely private pool that is positioned to enjoy the stunning views.

Designed and built in 1983 for an ex- Greek Prime Minster, the villa was constructed using top quality materials and has been finished to include all modern systems, including central heating. It offers spacious, well-appointed accommodation all spread over one level.

The expansive light, bright and airy living room and dining area features large glass sliding doors that open onto a wide covered terrace that enjoys views across the countryside to the sea, as well as overlooking the pool.
