Description

This residence in the Nissaki area of Corfu offers fascinating potential to be developed into a wonderful home. The property is in an ideal location; situated on a hill within a traditional village which is notorious for being surrounded by luxurious villas, as well as only five minutes away from the sea. Moreover, the view is spectacular, overlooking some lavish green landscape and the seemingly endless blue sea. The area is serene, and the plentiful olive trees sited within the property's perimeter create a fairytale-like atmosphere. The plot is composed of 700 m2 of land, with the possibility of building up to 400 m2 of construction on it. The old stone house consists of 100m2 of area allotted to two stories and requires both external and internal renovation. The property is link-attached to an already renovated traditional stone house.

On a final note, the airport and city are only a 20-25 minute drive away.
