Description

Located in one of the best positions in the village, this traditional stone built house has been fully renovated in keeping with local Corfiot traditions, retaining the charm and character of the original property - including the olive press, which remains a feature of the living room. There are stunning views of the sea, Ipsos and beyond -towards Corfu town as well as the local countryside.

On a plot of 800 sqm and with 180 sqm of living space, the property is set on 2 levels. On the ground floor, there is the fitted kitchen, living room, dining area and a master bedroom with its en-suite bathroom. Doors from this level give direct access to the covered veranda which takes advantage of the stunning views. There is also direct access to the garden from here which has a variety of fruit trees, flowers, shrubs and stone pathways.

On the upper level, there is a hallway and a further master bedroom which also has an en-suite bathroom. There is also a sitting room which could, if desired, be used as a 3rd bedroom.

The property has some lovely features β€" wooden floors throughout, beamed ceilings, arched doorways and the views from the veranda and rooms are stunning.

Agios Markos itself is a traditional picturesque village nestled into the foothills of Mount Pantokrator. The village dates back to the 11th Century and is listed as a protected area with its historical mansions and churches. Surrounded by low hills and woodland the village offers peace and tranquillity yet it is only 5 minute drive from Ipsos bay where amenities are open all-year-round.

This is a lovely property for use as a holiday home or for all-year round living.
